A reduction of the democratic vote in many of the Southern states tells the tale of the rising tide of Republicanism and the waning of the cause of democracy.

The battle of the ballots is over and the great army of American freemen have ordered William Howard Taft and James Schoolcraft Sherman to the capitol of the country on March 4th.

rattles and innocent fun.

The pictures of Taft and Bryan each evoked well rounded applause, each seeming to have plenty of friends. The first news came from New York up state and was rather encouraging to Bryan but soon the vote disclosed that Taft was equalling the Roosevelt tide of 1904. Then came news from greater New York which clearly evidenced that Bryan could not overcome the up state Taft majority. The Democrats were buoyed to considerable confidence by the late and uncertain returns from Ohio, and Indiana and such standbys as Tom Stockslager, Louis Henke, J. P. McLaughlin, Col. Waddill, Linn Field, Capt. Rude, Sam Hayes, and Wade James were disposed to "wait a little" and hope for better things. But when a dispatch came about midnight, saying Taft had carried Greater New York, it was the "last straw," and they wended their way homeward, sadder but no poorer, to woo that kind enchantress "Balmy Sleep" instead next to take charge of the destinies of the Nation for the next four years. Never during the twenty years of our residence in Eureka Springs has there been a campaign for president during which there has been so little local interest taken. Not one Republican speech has been made for the National ticket, and only two speeches made by the democrats and both by residents of Arkansas. On no national election day have we ever seen so little activity to get out the votes. Only one man taking enough interest to get a rig and go after votes. The result was a small vote in Eureka Springs which was carried for Bryan by 12 votes.

First Ward Bryan 69; Taft, 64; Floyd, 77; Mills, 63. Second Ward Bryan, 94; Taft, 80; Floyd, 115; Mills, 68. Third Ward Bryan, 68; Taft, 75; Floyd, 85; Mills, 67.

The center of attraction was the Moving Picture Parlor where messages were flashed on the screen and during the intervals beautiful pictures were displayed. Those of "The Spirit of '76" were particularly fine and liberally applauded. It was a jolly good national crowd that filled the seats at the Picture Parlor, and no one could ask a more considerate and decorous gathering made up of Republicans, Democrats, Socialists, Prohibitionists and Independents. It was a fine exhibition of tolerant humanity, all having different desires and conflicting interests and hopes.

Many women were present and seemed as deeply interested in the outcome as the men. The boys and girls seemed to prefer the street venting their pent up enthusiasm with horns and of poor rejected Miss Democracy. Republican rooters like Mayor True, S. W. Lee, B. J. Rosewater, B. H. Blocksom, Fred Pierce Philo Smith Jr., Geo. Baldridge, L. E. Baird, and Clio Miller were noticeably nervous when Ohio and Indiana were being first heard from. A fine report from Pennsylvania or Massachusetts would bring forth a loud toot from the Republicans; while a "live one" from Mississippi or Texas would show the Democrats were hot asleep.

NOTES

It was a landslide—to Taft. New York, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois are not doubtful states.

Chairman Mack and Walter Wellman are on a par with the late Senator Jones as election prophets.

Chairman Hitchcock knew what he was about when he claimed 325 electoral votes.

John Bridgford says the thing to do now is to get Democratic candidates from the south.

The most gratifying event is the determination of Missouri to stay with the G. O. P. and the election of Herbert and Hadley for governor.

The labor vote could not be cajoled by governors. They knew in which direction their dinners came from and their interests lay.

Mrs. Van Allen received reports over the long distance line and contributed much pleasure and news to a number of interested ones.

The Elks had a good time all by themselves but the news could not dampen their spirits.

The City Fathers Listen to Reports

The Mayor and Councilmen Willis, Dale, Gibson and Stillion were present, Councilmen Johnson and Henson absent.

The report of all city affairs was made and the usual routine of cancelling city scrip was gone through with.

Ordinance No. 456, Vacating alleys to P. J. Cunane was read the usual number of times and passed.

Ordinance No. 457, Requiring all consumers of city water to use meters was read and passed.

The salaries and accounts were allowed.

Councilman Dale moved and Willis seconded, that all delinquent water consumers be proceeded against according to law, Carried.

The following report of the Finance Committee on the Annual Water and Sewers Report was presented.

On motion of Councilman Dale seconded by Councilman Willis, the report of the Finance Committee on the Water and Sewer Commissioners Annual Report was ordered received and placed on file. Carried.

A motion by Dale seconded by Willis that the Report of the Water and Sewer Commissioners be rejected because it did not conform to law etc. was carried by the following vote. Aye—Dale, Willis and Gibson. Refusing to vote—Stillion.

The Council authorized the Mayor to enter into an agreement with W. C. Luth regarding the retention of Hose House No. 2 on its present site.

The Council then adjourned.

Herewith we give the painstaking and thorough report of the Finance Committee on the Water and Sewer Commissioners Report.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council, We, the undersigned Finance Committee, to whom the reports of the Chairman of the Boards of Water and Sewer Commissioners were referred respectfully submit the following:

We find that there are not any proper vouchers attached to the reports for the various amounts expended in any of the five districts, amounting in the aggregate to $7616.35.

The language of the law governing disbursement of Improvement funds makes it perfectly plain that by "proper voucher" is meant the original itemized account of a claimant, properly receipted by endorsement thereon or by a receipt for payment in full attached thereto; since, in no other way, could a taxpayer gain any knowledge of the prices, quantity, character or purpose for which an expenditure was made, and thereby be afforded such opportunity to file his exceptions thereto, as the law clearly and expressly provides.

Instead of proper vouchers, that is the original itemized account, duly receipted by the claimant, direct, (as has heretofore been filed with his reports by the Chairman) we find no original bills at all, but a peculiarly-worded printed form, a copy of which follows:

Received of.....Chairman of Board of Improvement for Sewer District No.the sum of.....dollars.....as evidenced by Warrant No.this day issued and delivered to the undersigned, drawn on.....the Treasurer of said district, in payment of..... This receipt given in duplicate.

Many of these forms are not receipted by the claimant nor by any one, whose authority to sign for him, is indicated by the signature; but even though all were properly signed, the entire list are worthless as receipts. The mere acknowledgement of the receipt of the Board's warrant does not discharge the Districts' liability to the claimant.

It is the presumption however that the Chairman took the precaution to have claimant endorse his receipt upon his original bill in each instance, and that the Chairman has all of the receipted bills in his possession and we therefore suggest that the Chairman be respectfully requested to file these original itemized receipted bills, as the law requires and as has always been the custom, and to which request we believe he can have no reasonable objection, and we believe will readily and cheerfully respond.

Our attention has been attracted by the largely increased cost of running the districts, in some instances amounting to 300 and 400 per cent; for illustration:

Warrant No. 25, Dist. 5, Feb. '08, Laura Nicholas checking Coll. 1907 $40.00

We find that a former Board paid R. B. Williams for checking collection 1904 for the same Dist., $11.00; his bill being for 44 hours at 25 cents per hour; and that in 1905, Frank E. Willis was paid $10.75 for 43 hours at 25 cents for the identical work for which a charge of $40. is made in the present report. In the absence of the information or explanation which the original bill rendered by Miss Nicholas might afford, we have no means of knowing whether $1. per hour was charged or whether 4 times as many hours were charged for.

For the reason that the itemized bills are not accessible, your committee is not able to pass intelligently upon the greater portions of these reports, but he would respectfully recommend that, in addition to the foregoing claim of $40., the following items from the various districts be disallowed, as the law provides, pending the filing of the original bills and such other explanations as may be produced:

Dist. 1, Newport, Coll., stamps, .50

Total to Collector, for postage and stationery, for 1905, $3.50.

Nos. 21-17--- 30, C. A. Fuller, fee mandamus suit, $100.00.

Warrants show that $100. had already been paid J. V. Walker for same purpose.

Total fee paid, $200.

No. 69, Dist. 2, transfers $77.22 to Dist. 1 on account of "over payment wrongfully made by collector."

Since the Collector had deposited only $172.38, this would leave $95.56 as the total gross collection for 1908 in Dist. 2, whereas the collection in 1905, under the same levy of one mill, was $177.80 net. after the Collector's 3 per cent was deducted.

If $95.56 was the total collection, the Collector drew double commission on the $77.22 transferred as he drew 3 per cent on $172.78 (Warrant No. 68, Dist. 2); and 3 per cent on $539.19 (Warrant No. 67 Dist. 1).

Since no entry of the $77.22 appears in Dist. 1, the presumption is that that amount is included in the item "Apr. 23, amount of Feb. collection $539.19" although the transfer was made until July, otherwise the $77.22 has been lost between the districts as no further debit is made to district No. 1 after the entry of April 23.

It follows therefore that either Mr. Bare should refund the excess commissions he drew; or, if he drew the correct amount, then the funds of either district 1 or 2 is short $77.22.

The receipt for the warrant drawing the $77.22 out of district 2 is signed by W. M. Duncan, Treasurer, notwithstanding that the warrant was drawn on J. D. Jordan, Treasurer, and, according to these reports the $77.22 was not deposited by Mr. Duncan in the treasury of district No.1.

The items of incidental expenses amount to $202.29 in Dist. 5, as against $47.16 for incidentals in the same district in 1905, and $33 for incidentals in 1904.

This proportion of about $4. to $1. in expenditures for incidentals seems to hold through all the districts. By incidentals, is meant all expenditures other than the payment of bonds and coupons and the imperative expenses of extending taxes, cost of tax receipt books, chairman's salary, collectors' and treasurer's commissions.

But nearly all of these regular expenditures are also greatly increased. The Chairman's salary amounts to $100. or double that drawn in 1903-'04 and '05.

Although the report shows that the total funds disbursed in all five districts amount to only $7616.83, the Treasurer's commissions of 1 per cent on which would be $76.16 (provided that he actually

ARE you satisfied?

NOW the Election is over we can all get to work for Eureka Springs and Carroll County.

ALL the election prophets can now get to work on building the Cabinet, when that is finished, they can commence on the length of winter.

WHAT about the assertions that the Republicans had raised a corruption fund to buy the states of Indiana, Ohio and New York? They were just assertions, nothing more.

THE Time's stands for extending the ballot to women, and also an educational qualification for voting. We contend the average woman would prove a much more intelligent voter and legislator than one-half the men who are allowed to vote.

"WHETHER or not you get the man you want elected president, you will have to weed your own row. If prosperous times follow the election it will not be worth anything to you unless you take advantage of the opportunities offered. If hard times follow you will gain nothing by growling at the administration, but your individual success depends largely on your own efforts."

The above chunk of wisdom came from the ink pot of Bro. Russell of the Green Forest Tribune. They are true to a dot. Any man who expects the government to so regulate things, that work will be a lingering strain of music, are already members of the society of Weary Willies.

THIS unusual card of thanks appears in one of our exchanges: "I did not issue a card of thanks when my husband died, but now that three months are passed, I wish to have one printed. I desire to thank, not those friends who came in when he lay dead in the house, and bustled about arranging the chairs and flowers, answering the door, but those friends who came in since the parade was over, and have sat with me in my loneliness when they might be with happier people elsewhere. And I desire to state that few of those busy before the parade have been to see me since it was over, I am no longer in the limelight, and am forgotten."

Carry Nation

FOR one, the Time's welcomes Carry Nation to this wonderful state. We wish she had chosen her home and little farm near Eureka Springs. She is a wonderful woman. She may do many things that are violent, harsh unexpected and unusual, but she is a woman who is doing a great work in the world. A work of rousing people to the fact that wrong, vice, fraud and crime is allowed to exist, when the law says it must not continue. Rousing the people to the consciousness that representatives of the law fail to do their sworn duty. Rousing people to the knowledge that it's a dangerous thing to play with whiskey, and that if we do, we must pay the price. We doff our hat to Carry Nation and wish her God-speed. In our humble judgment the present wave of popular enthusiasm in favor of prohibition is in a great measure only the flowering of some of the seed sown by Carry Nation. She has done a great work and deserves a home in Arkansas.

Mammoth Cotton Conference

IN every line of the worlds work, organization and consolidation seems to be necessary in order to meet the change and growth of trade. In Memphis on Nov. 10, 11 and 12th, there will be held a monster meeting of those interested in better prices for cotton.

This wonderful fibre is the staple of the Southland and how to make this great product bring the producer a better return for his labor, an invested capital is one of the problems the convention will try to solve. If successful, no one can measure the financial benefit that will accrue to every line of business in the whole south, for all are more or less dependent upon this great crop,

All lines of business will be represented in the convention. There will be Governors, Commissioners of Agriculture, Bankers, Merchants, Lawyers, Planters and all representative lines of business. Someone representing Eureka Springs or the Commercial Club should be sent as a delegate for this resort, as he could not only be good for the conference but Eureka Springs,

A Puzzle in Values

THE Hains murder case and the Logan-Tucker episode of recent fame, have brought the Army Circle into more or less newspaper notoriety of late. The glimpses afforded by these choice scandals, into the lives of a number of Army officials and their families are a little disgusting to use no stronger term.

Mrs. Hains insists that her husband taught her to drink whiskey and smoke cigarettes. Her brother-in-law swears the ladies of Ft. Hamilton taught her.

Anyway she learned. Of course she had a perfect liberty to drink whiskey and smoke cigarettes. The constitution guarantees her that, and nobody seems to have sought to interfere with her as long as she went no further in the paths of pleasant pastimes. A large number of other ladies just as good as she did likewise, so what were the odds. But while Captain Hains didn't object to the whiskey drinking and cigarette smoking he did object to the natural sequence, and so he shot the other man.

A few years ago an Army officer fell in love and married the daughter of a sergeant, a non-commissioned officer. Think of the horror of the thing, a non-commissioned officer's daughter marrying into the inner circle of this select assembly. She was a highly cultured, sweet and gracious woman, did not drink whiskey nor smoke cigarettes, but she and her soldier husband were tabooed by the select of Army life, the commissioned officers and their families. Now if this sergeant's daughter had smoked cigarettes and drunk whiskey and been a commissioned officer's daughter she would have been the real thing. What a pity!

Now, Captain Tucker who married the daughter of Jno. A. Logan of national military fame, was sent to the Philippines. The tropical sun of that fervid clime, not only wilted his collars but melted the chaste iciness of morals as well, so "the other woman" came into the play. He is now at the Army and Navy Hospital expected to die. His will is in Chicago, "that woman" as his wife terms the new accession to his feelings, is at the hotel in Hot Springs. "The other woman" in the case is always referred to, by the bereaved wife and her friends as "that woman." Funny but true!

Captain Tucker is still an officer in the United States army and in good standing with fellow officer's. But suppose he had married the daughter of a sergeant. How horrible! Then he would have been excluded.

Equal Opportunity

IN this campaign as in all of Bryan's Campaigns we have heard much of a demand for legislation, which would give to the citizens of this country equal opportunity.

When one stands with his mouth open and swallows such bald assertions and statements without salt, or reason, it is not to be wondered that they also begin to shout for opportunity.

If you will open your mind and let the thinking apparatus God gave you go to work, you will soon come to the conclusion that opportunity is not a matter of legislation. Equal opportunity can no more be legislated into existence than can equal goodness, equal knowledge, or equal wisdom.

Opportunity is a convenient time, or a favorable conjuncture, and it can not be made to appear in its best attire with winning smile ready to be embraced by every man in the land. No man, nor party can by legislation bring such a condition into existence. In this great nation every man and woman is given an equal chance before the law, and under the law, to use the talents with which God indowed them. And in the use of those talents largely lies or exists what so often passes for opportunity. The facts are, each individual is not willing to pay the price. They are not willing to put their whole soul into the work. To use every hour of the day and then many of the night, in ceaseless pursuit of the chosen task.

Equal opportunity is a Socialistic dream, a pleasing delusion for the idle, a catchy refrain for the ambitious demagogue; but it exists nowhere outside of Paradise, and few care, voluntarily to seek it there.

When God endows each being with the same quality and quantity of brain, the same love for labor, the same ambition to attain perfection or achieve success, then may we hope to obtain equality of opportunity, but that evidently will not happen in this vanity Fair of ours.

The Times and Justice McLaughlin

OUR friend J. P. McLaughlin takes exceptions to the Time's comparison of Presidential candidates in a recent issue and stated his views in the Flashlight last week. Everybody can not reason alike hence we all view things differently and the constitution permits us to this. We contend that Mr. Bryan is an untried quantity in governmental affairs. He is a fine type of American citizenship and possesses high ideals.

He is a wonderful man and America's foremost orator. Yet, a theorists and an orator does not necessarily make a statesman. Bryans four years in the House of Representatives prove only a barren record; for he orginated nothing, and of all the fine spun theories that have been advanced by him since, for curing social and governmental ill, not one did he promulgate while he had a chance to crystallize it into law. His free Silver fallacy would have bankrupted this country or any other that tried it. Mexico is just now out of its throes and glad to get rid of it. The coinage of silver dollars by the government is altogether a different thing from Free Coinage as advocated by Bryan. One is safe, the other unsafe. It is true the election of Mr. Taft on Tuesday was the first time he has ever been elected to office, but even Mr. Bryan admits the splendid record made by Mr. Taft in constructive statesmanship as evidenced by the successful outcome of his work in the Phillippines, Cuba and Panama.

Mr. McLaughlin then goes on to state what Mr. Bryan don't believe, and what Mr. Taft does believe in, and in almost every instance the Justice makes a mistake. For instance you surely don't think Judge Taft believes in Iperialism, in subjugating an ignorant people by cruel war, or in giving land to the Pope of Rome. Mr. Taft don't believe one of these things. The land talked about was purchased by the government and is being homesteaded to the Friars at cost and will cost the government nothing. This was a happy solution of the Friar Question that threatened to cause so much trouble in the islands. Now, Justice McLaughlin says "Taft don't believe that all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed." As a fact, some governments don't but the Times will bank its all, on the proposition that Taft believes that in America, the government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed. Then Justice McLaughlin says Taft don't believe in people havinf security for their bank deposits. Mr. Taft certainly doos and so does the Republican party. But Taft don't believe in the Bryan-Oklahoma kind of security. "Mr. Bryan believes that campaign contributions should be made public before election." We respectfully call the attention of our friend Justice McLaughlin to the House Bill No. 20112 that was introduced and passed the House at its last session for

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The Man About Town with a piece of Crape around his hat, was a gazing mournfully into the dim, blue, purple far-off distance when we found him a meditating with his pockets in his hand.

"Hello," we says awful cheerful like, "Have you heard Taft was elected?"

He turned a scornful look on us and resumed his far-off gazing into the dim, blue, purple distance. Deep silence rained.

"Say," says we kinder cautious like, "Have you heard the election news?"

"Sonny," says he wheeling round subdint like, "There be two kind of fools in this here world, plain fools and darned fools. Now which you be, I'll let yer friends decide, yer enemies mightn't be able to do you justice."

We felt meek. Then we thought we'd try another tack.

"What did you think of the report of Dale and Willis on the examination of the Water and Sewer Books?"

The Man About Town wheeled around so suddint like it scared us.

"Think," he says, "I think Dale and Willis needs a monnyment erected to them. I take off my hat to 'em, sonny," and he threw his hat with the mourning band right down on the street.

We picked it up, brushed the dust off and fingered the mourning band longingly but didn't say one word about it. We nobly restrained ourself.

"Well we need some one in this town to look after the people's interests," we said in a real uplighting way.

"Right you are, sonny, right you are. And the people in this town is insistin on their public servants a bein straight. You don't dead head nothin' through that there city council I tell you. Dale and Willis and Gibson is on hand to let daylight shine on everything."

"What do you think about the council ordering the Collector of Water rents to collect that delinquent $217, that Billy Duncan still owes for water rent on the Basin Park Hotel?"

"Did jest the thing sonny. We don't want nuthin' but the law, but we are goin' to have that or krow the reason why."

"Well, in a decade or so, we may get things on a good basis, here in Eureka Springs."

"Not near go long, sonny. The whole people is gittin lynx-eared and eagle-eyed. Everything done in this here town is a goin' to be examined awful minute and law-breakers had better tremble in their shoes."

"Well, 'eternal vigilance is the price to pay,' as the Scriptures say," we said feelin real noble.

"Yes, sonny, aou hit the nail on the head that time, if you didn't know no better'n to vote for Taft," and he walked sadly down the street.

"Publicity of Campaign contributions." In the House it passed by 161 by 126. Every Republican voting for it. Every Democrat voting against it.

In the Senate it was referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and was not reported because of the threat of Democratic Senators that they would Filibuster and kill it by talking it to death.

The balance of Judge McLaughlin's exceptions are on a par with the above and end up with, "Mr. Bryan believes in the Divinity of Jesus Christ. Mr. Taft does not." We wonder if Judge McLaughlin has forgotten that the Constitution of the United States allows every man to be his own judge as to religious matters? And lastly, isn't it silly after all, to bring into the argument the matter of ones religious opinion, as a qualification for the Presidency.

Tempts Cows to Death

What the trap is to the mouse, the right of way of the Fort Smith and Western Railroad Company has been to their cows, is the basis on which M. D. Collins and I. D. Benson have taken suits for damages against that road to the supreme court of Oklahoma on appeal. The complainants assert the defendant grows such sweet and attractive grass between its rails that it proves perfectly irresistible to the bovine appetite. When asked about it, a farmer of Pittsburg county said:

"Since that there railroad has been growin' better grass 'tween its tracks than we c'n grow on our farms, our cows hev' been eaten' uv it."

"But them cows is removed from the tracks every now and then by them engines and deposited over several acres of groun' in such a reckless manner thet the owners thereof caint recognize 'em. Accordin'ly therefore, the farmers is of the opinion thet if the railruds is a goin' to grow grass on their right of way they'll have to drive 'em off with less on-gentle things then 40 mile an 'hour engines, or they'll hev to pay f'r the damage in court."

"We figger up here thet if the railrud is boun' to hev' th' grass, it'll hev to fence it in."

Railrud tracks ain't no healthy place for no cattle to be makin' no dinin' room out of. A cow what is interrupted at lunch by the business end of a train aint never good for much no more, 'cept as a exhibit in court. an' if a man c'n collect enough of a cow after the removal ceremony, it makes a fust class exhibit f'r one of them mike-o-skeptical experts. An' thet, stranger, is now th' case stands. Hev' a drink?"—Gazette.

Taft May Get Oklahoma

Guthrie, Ok., November 4.—Indications are to-night that Oklahoma has gone Republican. Both parties are claiming the state by small majorities, but Taft appears to have carried the state, although the vote is close. Chairman Joe Norris, of the Republican State Committee said tonight: "It is still a horse race in Oklahoma, with the odds in favor of Taft."

The Republicans have elected three congressmen, Bird S. McGuire in the First District by 3100; Dick T. Morgan in the second, by 2100, and Charles E. Creager in the third, by at least a thousand. The Legislature will show big Republican gains in both houses. Tonight Gov. Haskell concedes forty members in the Lower House and ten in the Senate, to the Republicans. Republican leaders are of the opinion that the Legislature will be Republican on joint ballot, Insuring the election of Dennis Flynn to the United States Senate, instead of Thomas Gore, the blind orator.

Electrify 700 Miles Track

The president of the Canadian Pacific announces that his road is preparing to electrify 700 miles of track in the Rocky Mountain region, this power to be obtained from the numerous waterfalls in that section, says the Philadelphia Press. These streams represent in their power-producing capacity many millions of tons of coal and so long as unused, the power is going to waste. It might just as well be operating the railroad and saving the wealth of coal or wood now used in developing steam power in that well watered section.

This is a most important move, for if it proves successful and economical all other lines similarly situated will follow suit. If the horse power of the unharnessed mountain streams now lost can profitably be converted into electricity and used as motive power on our railroads, the coal thereby saved will be that much addition to the national wealth. A cleanly motive power also will be substituted for a very noisy emitter of smoke and gas and hot cinders, the latter the most common and prolific source of our forest fires.

It is Senator Depew's confident prediction that in 10 years from now the steam locomotive will have disappeared from use, going to the scrap heap or the museum, and electric power will have taken its place on all railroads. This may be oversanguine, but electricity is making yearly gains as a motive power on railways and the proposed change on the Canadian Pacific will, if it gives satisfactory results, promote the change enormously and make the scrap heap prediction one easy to believe.

Harmon Wins in Ohio

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 4.—A plurality of about 50,000 for Judge Taft, the Republican candidate for president, was the election day expression or the voters of Ohio, who, however, at the same time chose the head of the opposition state ticket by a plurality of probably 20,000. More than half the precincts of the state are included in the figures that show these results, no estimates being considered, and any difference will be simply as to the size of the plurality, there being no question of the certainty of the result.

Big Reception for the Bryan Tally-Ho

There was a great turn-out today, to meet the procession of celebrities who were carrying out their wager on the election. Dr. Chas. A. George, County Coroner, and J. B. Dodson, County Judge, started on time this morning for their twelve mile drive behind a pair of jennies. They were followed by carriages containing Messrs. A. J. Russell, John Fulton and other citizens of Berryville. It took them longer than was contemplated to make the trip, and they did not arrive at the point of East Mountain until a little after 12 o'clock.

Early this forenoon a party of Republicans made arrangements for the W. O. W. band and the Crescent Livery Tallyho, and started out to meet them. They were met a little over a mile out of the city and escorted into town with great ceremony. There were a large number of people on the street to welcome the party, and they were met with much hilarity. The party stopped on the point of East Mountain while Photographer Gray took several shots at them. After that they circled down East Mountain, up Main to Spring street, and around that thoroughfare as far as the Pence House, where the drivers of the sleepy steeds dined.

Director W. C. Pope, of the W. O. W. Band, had quite a time this morning reaching all the twenty-two members of the organization, many of them were busy and unprepared to go, but he got out a sufficient number, who with the aid of Prof. S. W. Norris and John Pulliam, made a good show.

Photographer Lucien Gray reports splendid success with the pictures he took of the party. The one taken from the summit of East Mountain includes the Crescent and north mountains as a back ground, and is one of the most beautiful landscape pictures he has taken around the city, besides portraying every member of the group so they are fully recognizable.

He also got a splendid picture of the party at the Basin Spring at closer range, and both will be ready for sale tomorrow.

Missouri Goes for Taft and Hadley

After the result of the St. Louis election was announced, Walter S. Dickey, chairman of the Republican State Committee, claimed the state, not only for Herbert S. Hadley, republican nominee for governor, and his associates on the state ticket, but for William H. Taft, by a comfortable majority. Taft carried St. Louis by 13,374 and Hadley by 16,029. Mr. Dickey said last night that the state is safe for Taft, but gave no majorities. Hadley's plurality he fixes at 15,000.

The Legislature is in doubt. The republicans claim it by a majority of 3, the democrats by a majority of 4 on joint ballot. The republicans lost a senator in St. Louis and another at Kansas City, but the returns indicate that they have carried the Twenty-seventh Senatorial District, of which Cole County is a part, and the Fifteenth Senatorial District, of which Pettis County is a part. The last district is certainly republican and the Twenty-seventh may be.

Col. Bill Phelps of Carthage, who knows Missouri politics like a book, said last night that the democratic state ticket is defeated without a doubt. Chairman Harry M. Rubey still holds onto the claim that Cowherd will pull through, although Gen. Hadley is leading him nearly 15,000 votes.

Taft Electoral Vote Increasing

Additional returns from Tuesday's election only serve to increase the greatness of the Republican victory for the national congressional tickets.

While the pluralities in some states have been cut down from the first indications, in others they have grown. While congressional districts in Indiana have been lost, they have been regained in Oklahoma and Missouri.

Montana, West Virginia and Maryland may safely be placed in the Taft column. Colorado is still in doubt, with the chances in favor of Bryan. Against this is the fact that Missouri, while it has gone for Hadley, is in doubt, with the chances favoring Taft.

Bryan's certain electoral vote is cut to 166, while Taft's is raised to 309, leaving 18—the Missouri electors—in doubt. Nebraska is safely in the Democratic fold. The state Legislature will be Democratic.

Indiana has also elected a Democratic Legislature that probably will put John Kern, defeated Democratic nominee for vice presidency, in the United States Senate.

Surprises came all day yesterday—some of them to the confident Democrats of Missouri, others to the confident Democrats of Oklahoma and Maryland. Politte Elvins (Rep.) has been victorious in the thirteenth Missouri Congressional District, A. P. Murphy, (Rep.) has captured the sixteenth on the face of the unofficial vote, while the figures indicate Charles A. Crow, (Rep.) has won in the Fourteenth. Added to these is Morgan's victory in the Fifteenth. Three Republicans will represent Oklahoma in the National House, against one during the last session. There are several Southern districts in doubt, with the chances favoring the Republicans.

Nebraska for Bryan

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 4.—Returns today and tonight on Tuesday's election, which, while far from complete, are sufficiently definite to confirm and emphasize the report that the Democrats have made a sweeping victory in Nebraska. While the pluralities for the victorious party are not phenomenally large they are complete, the state ticket and candidates for Congress in most instances running parallel with Bryan, who was expected to lead the ticket by several thousand.

He expressed himself before leaving as believing Eureka Springs to be the best natural location for a college in the United States, and he was unhesitant in his praises of the Crescent. Miss Marguerite is happier than she ever was before in her school work, and Dr. Willis departed an ardent missionary for Eureka Springs and her college.
